

EDITORIAL

TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1968
1 NEWS, 20¢, 1 SHEET, 200
Vol. XXXV, No. 1202

Develop Israel
with Israel Bonds

THE JERUSALEM POST

20 CIGARETTES BO

Russia Cool to IDO Arms Control Plan

GENEVA (UPI). — The West yesterday handed Russia a detailed blueprint for a veto-free organization in peaceful cheating on a proposed disarmament agreement.

But the Soviets received the idea coldly.

W. Germany, Belgium Sign Bonds Accord

BRUSSELS (Reuters). — Belgium and West Germany yesterday signed a military agreement for maintaining supplementary bases for conventional arms in each other's country, the Defense Ministry announced here.

One of the chief functions of the proposed International Disarmament Organization would be to set up machinery in ban nuclear satellite warfare.

The Western proposal suggested that I.D.O. should have a 14-member executive committee, some permanent subcommittees rotating as in the UN Security Council. It also would have a committee of states and a Director-General.

There would be no veto.

First Agrees to Disarm

The chief Soviet delegate, Mr. Valerius Kozin, criticized the Western plan without actually rejecting it. As he has done since the start of the negotiations, he insisted that East and West must first agree on disarmament steps and only then formulate actions against contraventions.

The U.S. delegate, Mr. Frederick E. Bates, told Mr. Kozin: "If we cannot agree on a simple first step, it is useless to go on to others."

Soviet efforts to face the necessity of admissions were cut short by the failure of earlier disarmament conferences, and he implored Mr. Kozin to reconsider his stand.

Marchese Calvetti said I.D.O. could collect information on each nation's armed forces to verify whether agreed reductions were carried out. He said it could install machinery capable of controlling nuclear production and verify the transfer of existing nuclear stocks from military to peaceful purposes.

Mr. Zorin said the I.D.O. ideal "embraced not only central but also had in mind other things in mind. I do not see how we can start without elaborating a concrete agreement on general and complete disarmament. Then we can discuss this," he said.

IDO Tasks

The draft presented by Bates suggested that I.D.O. could:

• Soothe mounting crises of nuclear war.

• Collect data on the present state of armed forces and arsenals.

• Verify the reductions of these forces and arms.

• Establish an agency to verify a ban on launching military weapons into outer space.

• Receive advance notification of long-range missile shots.

• Establish a committee to prohibit the production of nuclear materials for military purposes.

• Verify the transfer of nuclear arms from military to peaceful uses.

• Establish procedures for inspection of military operations to ensure non-use for repressive or other violations.

• Establish a surprise attack warning system.

The concerned three-power conference scheduled for today afternoon was cancelled by mutual agreement. It was announced here.

No date for the next session has yet been set, but it may be held this afternoon.

Zealous Marseilles Crowd Breaks K's Police Cordon

MARSEILLE. — Over-enthusiastic French crowds here yesterday broke a strong police cordon and sent Mr. Nikita Khrushchev reeling against the side of his car.

He turned pale as he stumbled, but he did not lose his good humour. Soviet and French security officers flung themselves between the Prime Minister and the rear of the crowd. They practically lifted him into the car, while scores of police struggled to clear a way ahead.

The incident occurred when Khrushchev emerged from an infant school where a crowd of several thousands had waited for hours outside the school gates.

He apparently intended to walk across and shake hands with some of them, and this encouraged them to surge forward. About 300 burst through the cordon and some with arms outstretched succeeded in pattering Mr. Khrushchev on the back.

We Microphone

Later he appeared on the balcony of the Marseille town hall and stood for several minutes smiling and waving at the cheering mass of people below. The crowd set off a chain of speech, and when Mr. Khrushchev looked round for a telephone, but French officials had failed to provide one after another wave, he went back into the building.

At the city hall reception the Socialist Mayor, M. Gaston Deferre, said: "It is important that men with such responsibilities you should know not only the leaders but also the people and the country."

In offering Mr. Khrushchev a Roman amphora (two-handled jar) found near the city, the Mayor said: "When we go to sports or leisure to other, one gives you a vestige of the past. But you have seen that we too think of the future."

Impromptu Exchange

Replying to the Mayor's words, the Soviet prime minister, after his speech, thrust his written speech into his side pocket and launched into a typical off-the-cuff series of retorts with the Mayor.

Mr. Khrushchev said: "There are people who believe that their hatred is of his scientific achievement and his service to the Hebrew University."

Prof. Krone replied that he was originally born to the Hebrew University, while development I have followed him from its early days."

Prof. Krone then lectured on "The Changing Face of the Biological Sciences."

The evening at Prof. Krone's home was the second of the Hebrew University's "Meetings with the President."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

To the question, "What does the Hebrew University do?" Prof. Krone said: "The Hebrew University is a research center in the fields of science and technology, and it is a teaching center in the fields of science and technology."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his visit will bring many benefits to the Hebrew University."

After reviewing the particular achievements of Prof. Krone, the award citation goes on to say: "We have gained much pleasure in our contacts with Prof. Krone, and we hope that his

Social & Personal

The President and Mrs. L. Ben-Zvi on Sunday entertained in dinner the former Prime Minister, Mr. David Ben-Gurion, and Mrs. William Drees. Among those present were the Prime Minister and Mrs. Menachem Begin; the Knesset Speaker and Mrs. Y. Luzz, the President of the Supreme Court and Mrs. Y. Olszanski, the Minister for Foreign Affairs and Mrs. I. Ben-Zvi, Minister of Finance; Mr. L. Eshkol; the Netherlands Ambassador and Mrs. J. Nagel-Barker; Mr. and Mrs. Y. Almog; and Ahu-Mishne Carmel. A reception following the dinner was attended by Ministers, Knesset Members and other public figures.

President and Mrs. L. Ben-Zvi yesterday gave a luncheon in honor of Prof. Felix Bloch and Hans A. Krebs and their wives. Among those present were the President of the Hebrew University, Prof. B. Mazor, Prof. A. Drory, M. Nachmanowitz, Dr. Alexander, G. Rabin, Dr. Weizsaecker, Mrs. Elizabeth Daniel and A/M Y. Carmel.

Mr. Ben-Zvi yesterday received Sir Brunel and Lady Cohen. The President also received Mr. M. Schneerson, Ambassador-Designate to Mexico.

The Knesset Speaker, Mr. Kadish Luzz, yesterday received Judge Joseph M. Proskauer, Honorary President of the American Jewish Committee, and his grandson, Lt. Col. Anthony Smith. Judge Proskauer and his granddaughter, Mrs. Smith, were Sunday greeted by Mrs. Paula Ben-Gurion at her home in Jerusalem.

The Governor of the Bank of Israel, Mr. D. Horowitz, last night gave a reception at the Holyland Hotel in Jerusalem for the World Bank delegation headed by Mr. Stuart G. Mason. Among those present were the Ministers of Finance and of Development, Chairman of Knesset Committees and senior officials of the Government and the Bank.

The Argentine Ambassador and Mrs. Garcia Arias attended a luncheon yesterday attended by the Ghanaian Ambassador, Mr. Bediako Poku; the Mayor of Ramat Gan and Mrs. Avraham Krinitz; the Deputy Mayor and Mrs. Shalom Zysman; Judge and Mrs. Nathan Barzakai; Mr. and Mrs. Enrico Barenboim; Mr. Morris Tev. Dr. and Mrs. N. Trainin of the Wiesmann Institute; and Mr. and Mrs. Lazarus Nissenbaum.

Dr. Peter Taubourdin, Director of the British Council, and Mrs. Taubourdin on Monday gave a reception at their home in Ramat Gan for Prof. and Mrs. Max Beloff, of Oxford. The Ghanaian Ambassador and representatives of the Foreign Ministry and the British Embassy were among those present.

Professor J. Halsted, of the Veteran's Hospital, Syracuse, N.Y.; Mrs. Halsted and daughter, and Professor Leo M. Davidoff of the Albert Einstein Memorial College, New York, visited the Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Centre. They were later the luncheon guests of Dr. K. J. Mann, Director-General of the Hadassah Medical Organization.

The Tel Aviv Ladies Committee of the Israel Philharmonic gave a luncheon at ZOA House on Sunday in honour of the pianist Gina Bachauer.

Paul Creston, the composer, and Franklin Chestnut, the conductor, yesterday visited the Rubin Academy of Music in Jerusalem.

Lady Bruno Cohen yesterday visited the Jerusalem Wizo Baby Home.

The Haifa Journalists Association elected the following officers at its annual general meeting: Mr. S. Shoham; Chairman: Mr. Y. White; Secretary: Dr. E. Amir; Treasurer: Mr. Y. Shimshoni and Mr. Y. Seckley, members of the Committee.

The plaque marking the funeral Fishman Wood, named in honour of the late American Jewish leader, was unveiled yesterday near Beit Meir, in the presence of members of the family and representatives of the National Institutions.

Israel Rotary's First District Governor

Mr. Wellesley Aron, Past Administrative Adviser of the Rotarians in Israel, was nominated for the post of District Governor at elections held yesterday by the country's 27 Clubs. The nomination will be ratified at the Rotary International Convention in New York in May.

Israel was granted the status of a District two months ago.

ISRAEL NATIONAL OPERA
1 Almon Rd., Tel Aviv

La Perichole
A sparkling Operetta by OFFENBACH
Tonight, Tues., March 29
Sat., April 2, Tues., April 5

ALEXANDRA
In Greek, Original Music by Tchaikovsky
by Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II

LA TRAVIATA
Mon., April 4

BARRIER OF SHYLVIE
Wed., April 6

All parts start at 8.30 p.m.
Tickets at the Box Office
Tel. 2-1211 (Tel. 2121)
Dress Rehearsal: Tues., April 5
Post Show: Free, 10 p.m.
Post Show: "Café"

Bevan to Return Only in Summer

CHESHIRE (Reuters). — Mr. Aspinwall Bevan, 62-year-old deputy leader of the Labour Party, indicated yesterday that he would not be returning to politics for some months.

He held his first press conference at his farm near here since a serious abdominal operation last December.

Mr. Bevan said his present plans were for a quiet fortnight at Brighton, English south coast resort, and then for a prolonged holiday "somewhere in the sun" before Easter and WhitSunday.

Mr. Bevan, physically much slimmer than before his operation but obviously in good health, said he would not return to active politics till he was thoroughly fit to do so, and this would probably not be until well into the summer at the earliest.

In April, 1960, Mr. Padwa

half of Beit Safafa were detained by police and escorted out of the village. They were told that the only legal meeting place is at Mandelbaum Gate, and then only after apropriate arrangements have been made in advance.

The "pilgrims" to the Israel option expired. He, however, had failed to do so and this passive behaviour on his part had relieved the respondents of their obligation to him. He would, therefore, not sue them now for breach of contract.

Claim on Quantum Merit when Contract Left Open

The Supreme Court, by majority decision, dismissed an appeal against a judgment of the Tel Aviv District Court delivered on July 18, 1967 (in C.C. 585/57).

The appellant, Mr. Jacob Padwa, a resident of Tel Aviv, was invited to a meeting in Europe between a representative of the Kaiser-Frazer company and Mosseri, Friedman and Ilan.

Mr. Padwa, a resident of the State of Israel, was invited to a meeting in Europe between the two companies.

Mr. Padwa's option expired on July 18, 1967, and he was entitled to receive payment

under the terms of the contract, which provided for payment of 10% of the shares of the company.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option ex-

pired on October 18, 1967.

Mr. Padwa's option expired

Today's PostbagThe Weather

FORECAST: Warm and dry. Weather Synopsis: A system of shallow depressions extending from North Africa to Israel is moving over our dry and warm desert air into our region.

METEOROLOGICAL DATA:
Mt. Carmel 40 12-21 13-21
Haifa 42 12-21 13-21
Nazareth 42 12-21 13-21
Tel Aviv 42 12-21 13-21
The Aviv 42 12-21 13-21
Jerusalem 42 12-21 13-21
Judea 42 12-21 13-21
Beth 42 12-21 13-21

* humidity at 8 p.m. 30% Temperature forecast.

ARRIVALS

Mr. T. M. Morris, M.E., Director to South Africa (by R.O.A.C.).

Mr. Shlomo Moshert, first violinist of the Kibbutz Orchestra, returning from a concert tour of the U.S. and Canada.

Mr. D. Landa, Director of Beacon's U.S. West Coast Office, arriving from San Francisco; Dr. M. Margovitch and Dr. M. Rosenblum, of San Francisco; Mr. H. Levi, of Chicago; and Mr. Bill Winkler, a journalist of Winston, Del.

Mr. Leib Bloemberg, an editor of the Swiss News Agency, and Mrs. Bloemberg, for a month's visit (by Swissair).

DEPARTURES

Dr. Y. Weizner, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Bank Leumi, to Zurich on Bank affairs (by Swissair).

Mr. Armando Sozzi, the new El Al managing director, leaving on his letters of credence to the President (by El Al).

Prof. and Mrs. J. Realest, son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Shlomo Moshert, arrived, and their daughter, in Tel Aviv, after a visit (by El Al).

AN 11-YEAR-OLD boy from Be'er Sheva was detained by police in Ramat Gan Sunday night when he was found carrying with the lock of a door on a household goods shop at 128 Rehov Haroch. On his person were found a number of keys, one of which fits the shop's lock.

RADJAH MOHAMMED AZIZ, 20, of Daburah village, near Mt. Tabor, was sent to prison for six months Monday for illegally crossing the border. Aziz went to Jordan in January and was returned to Israel a few weeks ago.

PRIJES TOTALLING IL1200 were yesterday awarded by the Raft Laboratories in Jerusalem to four secondary school and university students for their work in a case study contest on the subject of medicine and the natural sciences. The winners were Shimshon Gruber, of Be'er Sheva; Nitzchia Pinci, of Ramat Gan; Hanna Schwartz, of Kfar Ata, and Zevi Trelini, of Givatayim.

THE HOLDER of ticket number 71663 won IL20,000 in the IL100,000 grand lottery, London, 1957, held in Tel Aviv on Monday. Number 71662 won IL20,000 while number 10684 won IL10,000. The following numbers won IL2,000 each: 104486, 188074, 188884, 74462.

Anglo-Jewish Ass'n Delegation Arrives

LEYDIA AIRPORT. — A delegation of 22 members of the Anglo-Jewish Association, headed by the organization's President, Mr. Robert Nunes Carvalho, arrived here late Sunday night by Alitalia for a 10-day visit at the invitation of the Jewish Agency. They were met here by representatives of the Agency and of the Foreign Ministry. This is the first delegation from the prominent organization to visit Israel. The Association, younger "brother" to the Alliance Israélite Universelle in the field of Jewish education and culture. In 1948 the Association founded the Evelina de Rothschild School for Girls in Jerusalem.

The official members of the party include Messrs. Lawrence Jacobs, Dennis Sanderson, Leslie B. Prince, Edward F.O. Horowitz, Rabbi Dr. Louis Jacobs, Harold Soref, Gerhard Blumenberg, and Charles S. Spencer. The delegation visited Bar-Han University yesterday.

Winthrop Aldrich On Private Visit

The former U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain, Mr. Winthrop Aldrich, accompanied by Mrs. Aldrich, have arrived here for a three-day private visit in the course of a tour of several countries in the region. They were received yesterday by the Foreign Minister, Mr. Golda Meir.

Maternity Ward Opened at Porat Yosef

TIBERIAS. — The Minister, yesterday attended a double ceremony marking the opening of a 10-bed maternity ward and the laying of the cornerstone of a nursing home at the Porat Yosef hospital. Both facilities were financed by donations of the Hebrews family of the U.S.

Among those present at the ceremony were Mayor M. Cahal, of Tiberias; Dr. P. M. Kauz, Deputy Director of the World Health Organization; and Mrs. W. J. Levine, wife of the late Walter and Ethel Schlesinger.

Israel Teachers Invited to Poland

TEL AVIV. — Three members of the Histadrut Teachers Union have been invited to visit Poland on grants of the Polish Teachers Union at a cost per week of 1,000 zl. The grants cover travel, living expenses and meals. The Union will lecture on Israel education.

Late Rains Worth IL20m.

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Last week's rains were worth IL20m. They reduced the anticipated damage from this year's drought from an estimated IL60m. to about IL20m., the Minister of Finance, Mr. Levi Eshkol, reported in the Knesset Finance Committee yesterday.

A report of the position of the farmers was delivered by Mr. Eshkol and Mr. Tsviak Levy, Director-General of the Ministry of Agriculture.

The Committee approved payment of a IL10m. advance to farmers worst hit by the drought, the funds to be allocated from the IL10m. budget for this expenditure, which, it is estimated, will reach to IL20m., was made in the original draft budget.

The Finance Committee

with the consent of the Governor of the Bank of Israel approved disbursement of payments owed the Bank by the Government for the current and forthcoming fiscal years. These debts amounting to IL20m. are part of a IL60m. loan extended to the Government during the State Campaign.

(Leader — Page 3)

Deserter Gets 10 Years for Treason

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — David George Curtiss of Hobart, the 25-year-old son of a former Communist Zionist leader, was on Sunday sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for treason by a special military court.

Curtiss was found guilty of revealing information on military camps and insignia to the Lebanese. He was cleared of charges that he had broadcast anti-Israel propaganda.

His was the first trial in which a soldier has been charged with treason under the 1955 Military Penal Code.

Curtiss came to Israel after the 1956 revolution in Hungary and was inducted into the Army shortly afterwards. After a period of basic training, he crossed into the Lebanon, where he spent eight months.

In an earlier trial for desecration, Curtiss was sentenced to eight years imprisonment, which was reduced to five years on appeal. He will serve both sentences concurrently.

Mr. Alexander Tal, who represented Curtiss, told the Jerusalem Post that an appeal may be lodged. In his client's defense he pointed out that specialists at the Beer Ya'akov Mental Home, where he had been sent for observation, had found him "disturbed" with schizophrenia symptoms.

The father of the accused was a Chairman of the Zionist Federation in Hungary, and spent seven years in jail for his Zionist activities. He is now in this country, working as an accountant.

The prosecution was conducted by Rav-Soren R. Schindler.

Jordan Returns Remanded in Custody

One of the six persons returned from Jordan on Saturday night, Shaul Levy, aged 21, was ordered detained for five days yesterday by the Jerusalem Magistrate Court.

Levy is suspected of having voluntarily crossed the lines and having given information to the Jordanians during interrogation.

(Horn)

Nehemia Raban, Bible Scholar, Dead at 60

TEL AVIV. — Nehemia Raban, one of the founders of the Bible study groups in Israel and one of the best educated Knesset Rabbis, died yesterday in Hadassah Hospital after a serious illness. He was 60.

He leaves a wife, son and daughter.

Raban was a descendant of the founder of the Hassidic Habad movement, Shlomo Zalman Schneur. He came to Palestine from Poland in 1926, and devoted a good part of his time to translating from classical Greek into Hebrew. He also published many articles on Hebrew philology.

The funeral will leave his home at 12 Rehov Tchernichovsky at 2 p.m. today.

Police May Reopen Accused Before Justice

Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA. — Mr. Moshe Mizrahi, of Haifa, was on Sunday night elected Chairman of the Ofakim Local Council. His pending election to the post had previously been announced three times, but had always been canceled at the last moment due to insufficient differences in the local branch of Mapai.

The coalition in Ofakim is now made up of four Mapai and three National Religious Councillors. The opposition consists of one Mapai and one Herut representative.

THE JEWISH AGENCY approved yesterday the appointment of Mr. Yaakov Rothchild as head of its Technical Department, replacing Mr. Yaakov Razani, who has retired.

Mr. Razani yesterday gave a

Tax Relief Bill Debated; No One Entirely Satisfied

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The Knesset last night began the first reading of the Income Tax Ordinance. The bill, which will afford a certain amount of tax relief, was presented last week by the Minister of Finance.

It is expected to pass its first reading today.

Opposition speakers took the view that the tax reductions were good as far as they went. The views expressed by Coalition speakers were more uniform, but a number of them felt that the bill would lead to the lower taxes would lead to the payment of honest taxes.

Mr. Michael Chaimov (National Religious) said that the income tax laws discriminated against the self-employed farmer. Why, for example, should a wife who works on the family farm not be entitled to file a separate tax return like any other working wife?

Mr. Avraham Arieli (Mapai) predicted that while the bill lowered the tax rate, assessments would be higher to keep the net result the same. He criticized the fact that the Treasury had raised customs duties only where the product was not included in the budget.

Mr. Meir Cohen (Progressive) criticized the Histadrut for interfering in tax matters such as the exemption of the cost-of-living allowance from income tax, or the tax rate on overtime. The Histadrut would stick to trying to raise wages.

Knesset Adopts Interim Budget

The Knesset last night passed the interim budget for the period April to June in the amount of IL20m. The vote was 60-49 in coalition opposition alone.

The interim budget was adopted by the Government when it became obvious that the Knesset would be unable to pass the annual budget to the self-employed.

I.P.O. Appearing Twice in Tel Aviv City Employees

TEL AVIV. — Major Mordechai Namir presented public service awards to 16 Municipal employees here on Sunday at a ceremony at the City Hall in the presence of Councilors and heads of municipal departments.

Mr. Ya'akov Pastick, foreman in the Municipal Road Building Department, received IL100 for introducing technical improvements in steam rollers, for efficient utilization of waste material, and for introducing methods for maintaining equipment and materials.

Mr. Eliezer Harari, who is responsible for the signs section of the Municipal Engineering Department, was awarded IL20 for improving and standardizing road signs and house number plaques.

Other recipients of awards were Mr. Ernest Shusterman, a driver; Mr. Motie Stern, a driver; Mr. Gordonia Ovadia, a draughtsman in the Town Planning Department; eight Municipal nurses; and three other Municipal employees who displayed initiative and skill in their various jobs.

Mayer Namir also announced that a joint council was formed by the Municipal management and the Municipal employees' organization to raise efficiency and develop a team spirit among employees.

It is now understood that the renovation of Binyanei Ha'oma will be completed by July 1.

The father of the accused was a Chairman of the Zionist Federation in Hungary, and spent seven years in jail for his Zionist activities. He is now in this country, working as an accountant.

The prosecution was conducted by Rav-Soren R. Schindler.

Jordan Returns Remanded in Custody

One of the six persons returned from Jordan on Saturday night, Shaul Levy, aged 21, was ordered detained for five days yesterday by the Jerusalem Magistrate Court.

Levy is suspected of having voluntarily crossed the lines and having given information to the Jordanians during interrogation.

(Horn)

Nehemia Raban, Bible Scholar, Dead at 60

TEL AVIV. — Nehemia Raban, one of the founders of the Bible study groups in Israel and one of the best educated Knesset Rabbis, died yesterday in Hadassah Hospital after a serious illness. He was 60.

He leaves a wife, son and daughter.

Raban was a descendant of the founder of the Hassidic Habad movement, Shlomo Zalman Schneur. He came to Palestine from Poland in 1926, and devoted a good part of his time to translating from classical Greek into Hebrew. He also published many articles on Hebrew philology.

The funeral will leave his home at 12 Rehov Tchernichovsky at 2 p.m. today.

Police May Reopen Accused Before Justice

Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA. — Mr. Moshe Mizrahi, of Haifa, was on Sunday night elected Chairman of the Ofakim Local Council. His pending election to the post had previously been announced three times, but had always been canceled at the last moment due to insufficient differences in the local branch of Mapai.

The coalition in Ofakim is now made up of four Mapai and three National Religious Councillors. The opposition consists of one Mapai and one Herut representative.

THE JEWISH AGENCY approved yesterday the appointment of Mr. Yaakov Rothchild as head of its Technical Department, replacing Mr. Yaakov Razani, who has retired.

Mr. Razani yesterday gave a

Tax Relief Bill Debated; No One Entirely Satisfied

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The Knesset last night began the first reading of the Income Tax Ordinance. The bill, which will afford a certain amount of tax relief, was presented last week by the Minister of Finance.

It is expected to pass its first reading today.

Opposition speakers took the view that the tax reductions were good as far as they went. The views expressed by Coalition speakers were more uniform, but a number of them felt that the bill would lead to the lower taxes would lead to the payment of honest taxes.

Mr. Michael Chaimov (National Religious) said that the income tax laws discriminated against the self-employed farmer. Why, for example, should a wife who works on the family farm not be entitled to file a separate tax return like any other working wife?

Mr. Avraham Arieli (Mapai) predicted that while the bill lowered the tax rate, assessments would be higher to keep the net result the same. He criticized the fact that the Treasury had raised customs duties only where the product was not included in the budget.

Mr. Meir Cohen (Progressive) criticized the Histadrut for interfering in tax matters such as the exemption of the cost-of-living allowance from income tax, or the tax rate on overtime. The Histadrut would stick to trying to raise wages.

Knesset Adopts Interim Budget

The Knesset last night passed the interim budget for the period April to June in the amount of IL20m. The vote was 60-49 in coalition opposition alone.

The interim budget was adopted by the Government when it became obvious that the Knesset would be unable to pass the annual budget to the self-employed.

I.P.O. Appearing Twice in Tel Aviv City Employees

TEL AVIV. — Major Mordechai Namir presented public service awards to 16 Municipal employees here on Sunday at a ceremony at the City Hall in the presence of Councilors and heads of municipal departments.

Mr. Ya'akov Pastick, foreman in the Municipal Road Building Department, received IL100 for introducing technical improvements in steam rollers, for efficient utilization of waste material, and for introducing methods for maintaining equipment and materials.

Mr. Eliezer Harari, who is responsible for the signs section of the Municipal Engineering Department, was awarded IL20 for improving and standardizing road signs and house number plaques.

Other recipients of awards were Mr. Ernest Shusterman, a driver; Mr. Motie Stern, a driver; Mr. Gordonia Ovadia, a draughtsman in the Town Planning Department; eight Municipal nurses; and three other Municipal employees who displayed initiative and skill in their various jobs.

IKE VOTES NIXON FOR PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT Eisenhower has spoken out at last—on the subject of his successor. The laying on of hands is over, and he has made it clear that he wants Vice-President Richard Nixon to have the job.

This does not come as a major surprise. Some, it is true, saw evidence of a lack of enthusiasm for Mr. Nixon in the President, because he delayed so long. Mr. Eisenhower insisted it was only his desire to do the right thing that kept him quiet so long. He did not want to spoil the chances of some other deserving man of making the bid for the Republican Party nomination.

But the inner circle of the Administration has had a long time now to deliberate on the point. At a Cabinet meeting last autumn, an important matter of policy was being discussed. Suddenly the President looked across at the Vice-President, pointed at his own chair, and said firmly: "I want this problem solved. Don't let us be connected for ever with you who are sitting over here!" There was an interesting and reflective silence in the room.

They are two very different sorts of men, one ageing, gifted with an almost Napoleonic personal gaudiness who has never been able to fight very hard for high office and regards practical politics as a rather messy business; the other youngish, who has clawed his way up towards the top, who lives and breathes politics to the exclusion of every other interest.

The relationship between them is a practical rather than a cordial one. It has been described as a model relationship between a retiring commander and his chief subordinate who is his most likely successor. Mr. Nixon now plays a larger role in the National Security Council. He has now long, frequent and wide-ranging discussions with the President in private. No other Vice-President in modern times has had such intimate contacts. One of President Roosevelt's Vice-Presidents was never allowed inside the White House and lived most of the time in Texas.

Particularly during his first term the President was casual in his attitude to his Vice-President. He dismissed Mr. Nixon as "a splendid man" but the young ladies type of younger man we want in politics"—a very inadequate endorsement. Nixon was kept to political speechmaking and in the routine of commanding until the President had had his first heart attack. Since then Mr. Nixon has been in the thick of it. Whether he stays depends upon the national election in November. Many people still think he will.

Automatic Mail

ONE of the anomalies of the U.S.A. is that the postal service is a spectacularly inefficient. It is regularly loss money. The Postmaster-General is traditionally a political behind-the-scenes organizer for the victorious party. Congress resists each and every move in the postal rates. The whole system creates an atmosphere of strange experts in America.

Periodic attempts have been made to speed up the process by the introduction of more machines. The ideal is that a sack of mail be dumped at the post office and then sent to its destination, all untouched and undelayed by human hands. They are a long way from achieving that.

But soon letters will be carrying dull grey stripes in the bottom right-hand corners of their envelopes. The stamp of colours will contain minute magnetized particles of metal which are arranged in a code to denote the proper city and State. They are put on in the first place by an operator seated at a keyboard and another machine which will recognize them and start them off in the right direction.

Next autumn, the post office hopes to have the prototype of a machine that can actually read a typewritten or printed address. Another probable saver is the introduction of a standard-sized envelope for all correspondence.

The U.S. Post Office carried 66,000 million pieces of mail last year, or about 370 pieces per head. They expect this figure to treble in the next 20 years. They have plenty of room now wanting to try something new.

A Naïve Accent

THE mark of the "real in" businessman in New York is to have an English executive secretary working for him. There is undoubtedly an element of snobbery in all this, but the young ladies are seldom titled. It is the accent that really gets them the job.

One owner of an employment agency—made a special effort to bring England to America. He is firm on the subject. The American secretary, knowing she is in short supply, is likely to come in a little later in the morning, or to take an extra coffee break.

The English girl, now a little more respect for the job. She has been trained to be courteous to the caller. It is normal to them, and it is not normal to a lot of Americans. You won't find a gum-chewer among the English girls either.

But all is not quite perfect.

The New York State Commission Against Discrimination has assigned a commissioner to investigate the "new fad."

The laws which allow for $20,000 fine and a year in prison for not filing an honest flight plan will be applied.

There are penalties for other crimes that involve the confiscation of the plane, 10 years in jail and a $25,000 fine. There is also the prospect—an added deterrent—of imprisonment and death for being caught in Cuba itself.

But the anti-Castro refugees who have swarmed into Florida are well supplied with money and can always, apparently, find the down-on-the-luck pilot to cooperate in their curious plots. These flights are a grave embarrassment to the U.S., but small aircraft can easily take off and land from roads, fields and beaches without being detected. Even the tightened control and the fearsome penalties are unlikely to put a dead stop to adventurers who are determined to fly to Cuba.

BASH

The Rabbis roundly condemn the planned Jerusalem park of modern sculpture donated by Billy Rose.

(Courtesy of The Press)

By arrangement with "Ma'ariv"

YESTERDAY'S PRESS

Why Russia Arms Arabs

KHRUSHCHEV's plan that

Moscow is only following the "principles of mutualism" in sending arms to the U.A.R. and Iraq despite its avowed aims of universal disarmament and coexistence is subjected to close inspection by some of yesterday's papers.

Habeker (General Zionist) finds the explanation both unsatisfactory and unacceptable, for Mr. Khrushchev is well aware that Turkey or Persia will not use the arms supplied them by the West unless Russia attacks first or in the event of a global conflagration. On the other hand, it is not easy to see how the U.A.R. and Iraq will constitute any significant threat to the West in an event, and the only conclusion can be that they are garnering these Soviet-sent arms for the day when they will try to crush Israel. That is what Mr. Ben-Gurion attempted to urge the leaders of the Summit.

Hatsofe (National Religious) concludes that although there has been no justification for sending arms till now, their final aim was to extend Russia's foothold in the Middle East. It is doubtful if the Soviets will take the initiative in proposing Middle East disarmament. On the other hand, it is difficult to imagine that the West will agree to an alliance now that the U.A.R. and Iraq have been armoured with Soviet arms and the imbalance has been created.

Lerner (Abud Ha'avoda) describes the "mutuality" plan as only part of a dangerous game between the Powers that involves the West and tens of millions.

Just as the West cannot be sure that Germany will not get out of control, so the East cannot be certain, after arming the Arab rulers to the hilt, that the U.A.R. or Iraq will not kick up the traces and plunge the region and perhaps the world into a disastrous war.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.

Hanania (World Aguda) writes that peace can come to the Middle East if Mr. Khrushchev is sincere and he more than any other statesman, can prevail upon the Arabs to drop their silly fears of Israel. But he will not succeed in doing that if he continues to feed the

Arabs.